

COOKIES POLICY

The website <https://www.hotelpuertosherry.com/> uses first-party and third-party cookies and similar technologies. This policy explains what they are, why they are used and how users can manage their preferences.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small files stored on a user's device when visiting certain websites. They may be used to remember preferences, enable specific functions and obtain information about website usage.

2. Types of cookies

- Technical or necessary cookies: enable navigation, requested services and essential preference management, such as storing cookie choices. They do not require consent when limited to these purposes.
- Preference or personalisation cookies: remember certain user choices, such as language. Where their use is not strictly necessary, the applicable consent rules will apply.
- Analytics or measurement cookies: measure and analyse website usage in order to improve the service. They will only be installed where a valid legal basis exists and, where required, after the user has given consent.
- Third-party or embedded-content cookies: may be set by external providers when maps, videos or other content is loaded. Their use is subject to the user's cookie settings and the provider's policies.

3. Consent and settings

Non-essential cookies should not be installed before the user has given valid consent. Users must be able to accept, reject or configure cookies clearly and easily. The option to reject must be offered at the same level as the option to accept.

Consent may be withdrawn or changed at any time through the permanent "Change cookie settings" link or equivalent mechanism available on the website.
